$5,000 FIRE DESTROYS LOG CABIN MARKET

Firemen Fight Early Morning Blaze for Two and One-Half Hours.

A morning fire destroyed the Log Cabin market at 319 S. Main street today, leaving a loss estimated at $5,000. John H. Bender, operator of the newly-organized quad company of the Central fire station, was summoned to the market at 3:34 a. m. At 3:43 the fire company and the aerial company were called out. Firemen fought the blaze for over two and one-half hours. Shortly before 6 a. m. the blaze broke out again and the fire broke out again. The fire station answered the call.

John H. Bender, in charge of the fire from the Central fire station, reported the building was completely enveloped in flames. The first fire-fighting company arrived. He said within 15 minutes after first crew from the Central station arrived the roof fell in.

FAHEY BANK ENROLLED IN FEDERAL RESERVE

Membership in System Announced Today.

The Fahey Banking Co. of Marion has been admitted to membership in the Federal Reserve system, the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland announced today. Ray L. Poland, the banking company's vice president and treasurer, said membership in the federal reserve offers a number of advantages and that the bank intended to make full use of the machinery which the federal reserve system has established to facilitate banking transactions. He said the reserve system organization represents four-fifths of the banking resources of the country. The bank was established in 1885 as a private bank and was the outgrowth of a small business conducted by Timothy Fahey. It was incorporated in 1893 and was authorized to commence business on April 1 of that year. Its deposits are approximately $3,500,000. Officers aside from Mr. Poland are M. C. O'Brien, president; Francis B. Huber, cashier and secretary; Tim R. Fahey, assistant cashier. The directors other than officers are John M. Dugan, Dr. F. V. Murphy and C. F. LaMarche.

MEAT PRICE LIMITS POSTPONED A MONTH

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 14—The office of price administration today postponed for a month the effective date of its newly announced retail prices on beef, veal, lamb and mutton and hinted that some of the prices might be cut down before being reinstated.

The new prices, standardized by the office of price administration, would have gone into effect tomorrow morning. The new effective date will be May 17.

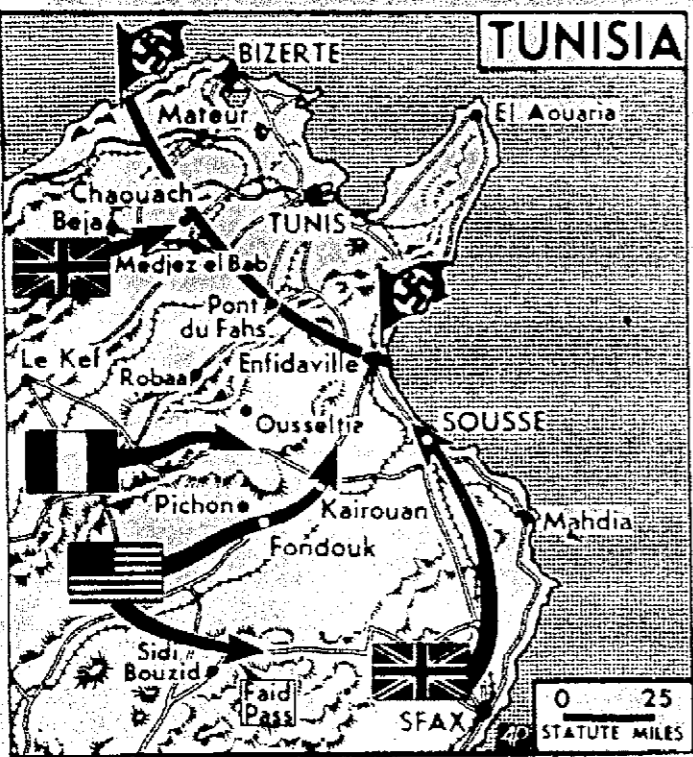

OPA said the postponement was ordered to permit reexamination of the prices in the light of the recent "hold-the-line" presidential order.

Meanwhile, OPA regional and district offices have been instructed to make an immediate check of the new retail ceilings against retail prices in effect at the time of the President's order.

On the basis of these surveys, OPA will determine whether price ceilings are needed.

An immediate indication was given by official sources as to OPA's intent concerning price ceilings, but some officials admitted protests had arisen in a large number of cases. The proposed beef-veal price ceilings appeared to be large chain stores to increase by substantial percentages.

Some chains that had low prices on popular items would have been permitted to double their prices. It was understood that at the OPA drafted the standard order, chains were given authority to raise prices on items the former maximum prices were little more than the new maximum prices. The action did not affect the standardized prices on items which went into effect May 1.

BATTLE FOR TUNIS NEARING SHOWDOWN. The British Eighth army occupied Sousse in its sweep up the Tunisian coast and Kairouan, southwest of Sousse, has fallen to the U. S. and British forces. Arrows indicate Allied drives. Axis forces now apparently are preparing to stand on a line from Enfidaville to Pont du Fahs and may soon be engaged in a last ditch fight along front indicated here by arc. Allied forces have reached this line at several points.

PAN AMERICAN DAY OBSERVED

U. S. and Sister Republics Look Ahead to Post-War Period.

WASHINGTON, April 14—A pattern cut more than half a century ago was eyed for its postwar planning possibilities today as the capital joined the nation and a score of sister republics in celebrating Pan American day amid new indications that the administration's lapsing foreign trade program would be renewed.

The new emphasis on Pan American day, shown by scores of major programs throughout the hemisphere, was hailed by President Roosevelt as proof of the progress of the inter-American unity it celebrates. His assertion in observance of the international holiday that the Pan American union—drafted a decade before the turn of the century—had worked out a successful system for continental defense and mobilization against aggression had Washington wondering whether he thus implied that the United Nations might well adopt such a plan, on a broader scale, to maintain peace in the postwar world.

The accident occurred about 6 a. m. Mr. Hitchcock was in an unconscious condition at City hospital this morning.

Mr. Blair and a witness told police that Mr. Hitchcock was running across Center street from south to north near Dix avenue.

He suffered a cut over the left eye and several bruises.

Bond Sale Conducted at Meeting of Grange

War bonds amounting to $2,300 were sold during an open meeting of United Grange in the Clarion school last night. Through the efforts of James Fields of the Grange war bond committee and A. J. Loudenslager and Elmer J. Schoenlaub of the Marion county war bond committee, Mr. Loudenslager and Mr. Schoenlaub spoke. Vocal and instrumental music was presented by "Marlin and Her Cowboy Band." A "white elephant" sale with James Hummer of Caledonia as auctioneer netted the Grange $175 which will be used to buy bonds. April 27 Progressive Grange will give a program and present United Grange the traveling flag at a United Grange meeting. Refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. Dora Fields.

PORT MORESBY TARGET OF BIG JAPANESE RAID

Attack Comes Shortly After MacArthur Warns of New Threat in Pacific.

By The Associated Press
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 14—Headquarters of General MacArthur tonight announced tersely that a strong force of Japanese aircraft raided Milne bay during daylight today. Details were not immediately received.

The raid was believed to have been on the approximate scale of other big raids in the southwest Pacific recently, which General MacArthur has termed the beginning of Japanese aerial offensive in this area.

These were raids on Oro bay, Tulagi and Port Moresby. Eighty-five and forty-five planes were used by the Japanese in separate assaults against Oro bay; 87 against Tulagi; and approximately 100 against Port Moresby.

The announcement followed by 12 hours Gen. Douglas MacArthur's special statement issued at the regular noon communiqué of time, voicing a new warning of imminent danger of a Japanese attempt to wrest allied supremacy from the allies in the southwest Pacific.

The raid on Milne bay, which lies on the southeast tip of Papua (New Guinea), was the heaviest there since Jan. 17, when 24 medium bombers, escorted by 20 Zeros made an attack.

The other raids against Milne bay have been night sorties in which nine planes were the most that were used at any time.

The brief headquarters announcement tonight did not say whether our planes were able to get aloft to intercept the Japanese force with the same success as during other raids in recent days.

In the Port Moresby raid of April 12, 37 Japanese planes were shot out of action either in dog-fights over Moresby or by aircraft.

Following the Port Moresby raid General MacArthur's communiqué said "it is believed the enemy's air offensive has been blunted and his immediate plans dislocated."

The general's warning said the Japanese had "complete control of the air over the western Pacific and the outer approaches to Australia."

To this warning MacArthur added: "The assertion that the Japanese have been able to bring forward convoys of ground forces to continue his attack to the southward is a limit imposed only by the range of his aircraft."

MacArthur's statement came during a lull in the Japanese aerial offensive, during which allied airmen blasted two enemy ships in Hanks bay on the north coast of New Guinea, probably sinking one of 10,000 tons and setting one of 8,000 tons afire and struck at other enemy bases above Australia.

Air Control Vital
"If the enemy wins control of the air, his naval units can at once bring forward convoys of ground forces to continue his attack to the southward to a limit imposed only by the range of his aircraft."

RAF BOMBERS RAID SPEZIA

Britain Based Planes Make Long Hop; Middle East Craft Blast 3 Ports.

By The Associated Press
LONDON, April 14—British home-based bombers heavily attacked Spezia, naval base in northern Italy, last night, and it was officially disclosed today RAF raiders from the Middle East had blasted Palermo and Messina harbors in Sicily Monday night.

Spezia is on the Ligurian sea, about 50 miles southeast of Genoa on the west coast of Italy. It was bombed twice in February by the RAF.

Palermo and Messina have been repeated targets for bombers of the middle east command and also for the North African strategic air force as efforts were made to knock out the important Sicilian harbors helping supply Marshal Rommel's forces in Tunisia.

Other RAF formations followed up these assaults by raiding objectives in northwestern Germany at dawn this morning.

Three bombers were reported missing from the 1,500-mile round trip to northern Italy and the raid on Germany. None were reported lost to the attacks on Sicily.

The Monday night raids on Palermo and Messina were disclosed in a communiqué issued from allied headquarters in Cairo.

The bulletin reported bursts were seen on railroad sidings and to shoot down two German fighters while other squadrons, including two Canadian units and a fighting French group, escorted Ventura bombers on attacks at Abbeville and Caen, in France, where hits were scored on railway yards.

Fighter-bombers also dropped explosives on Brest and St. Omer in northern France.

Three allied fighters were lost in the actions.

County War Bond Sale Passes Million Dollars

Approaches Half-Way Mark in Drive for Quota; Workers Report Favorable Public Response.

Pledges reported in the first 24 hours of Marion county's part in the nationwide Second War Loan campaign hit the $1,015,296.75 mark, F. E. Guthery, chairman, reported this morning.

Nationally, about two billion dollars was raised the first day toward a 13-billion dollar goal.

Pleased by the first day's response, Mr. Guthery complimented the buyers and workers, but warned that progress from this point on is likely to be much slower.

With $1,519,201.25 yet to be raised to reach the county goal of $2,533,000, he urged workers to contact every possible prospect, and called upon Marion county citizens generally to let their hearts rather than their pocketbooks be their guide in making purchases.

"Even if you might use the money a little more advantageously for other purposes just now, I hope you will think twice about the importance of winning the war before you use money for any other purpose than buying bonds this month," he urged.

Workers generally reported good response on their initial calls yesterday, following Monday night's kick-off meeting. Many of them said their first calls led to preliminary arrangements for substantial purchases later in the drive; and others brought in sizeable orders for bonds.

Although the drive will continue throughout April, Chairman Guthery has asked workers to try to put Marion county over the top by Saturday night.

A Reason for Buying
Throughout the nation this month, treasury department officials are urging public support of the drive for 13 billion dollars by May 1. They cite four reasons why the campaign should receive the support of every individual who can possibly buy extra bonds during that period:

(1) The government must have 109 billion dollars for its fiscal year beginning June 30, this year. That's 300 million dollars a day, 125 million dollars an hour or 210 thousand dollars a minute. Only 35 billions are being collected in taxes; leaving 74 billions to be borrowed. That's $56 for every man, woman and child or more than $2,000 for an average family of four.

(2) To back up our boys on the fighting fronts. They recall Churchill's words that winning a war takes "blood and iron." Providing the money is a job only those at home can do.

(3) The bonds are the soundest and safest investment in the world. They are the obligation of the U. S. government, the same as money. They pay interest, $500 invested in 2 1/2 per cent bonds will pay you $12.50 each year in interest and return the principal in full at maturity. $375 invested in full at maturity. $375 invested (Turn to BOND SALE, Page 7)

ALCATRAZ CONVICTS ALL ACCOUNTED FOR

By The Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, April 14—Lasting two convicts as dead and two recaptured in the latest escape attempt at Alcatraz federal prison in San Francisco Bay, Warden James A. Johnston said today the men who made the dash were "all accounted for."

Last to be checked off was Fred Hunter of Ohio, 42-year old sloppeshouldered former pal of the late Alvin (Old Creepy) Karpis, post office and train robber.

Hunter was flushed out of the island yesterday, not far from where he and the three others started their dash in the morning from the prison model shop, after blinding and gagging two guards.

The warden also said four one-gallon paint cans were found, each stuffed with army uniform clothing. The men had planned to use the cans to help keep them afloat in the bay and the clothing, taken from the prison shop where army goods are reclaimed, to serve as disguise.

The dead, picked off by guards' rifle fire as three of the convicts battled the ebb tide, were: James A. Bosman, 24, Indianapolis bank robber and youngest member of the quartet; and Floyd G. Hamilton, 36, once a member of the Bonnie Parker-Clyde Barrow gang, which terrorized the southwest a decade ago.

Pulled from the water, naked and returned to his cell was Harold M. Brest, 31, Pennsylvania bank robber serving a life sentence. He suffered an elbow wound while he required two stitches.

AXIS PREPARES TO STAND ON MOUNTAIN LINE

84 Nazi Planes Destroyed as Allied Fliers Keep Up Air Attack.

By The Associated Press
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 14—The allied forces in Tunisia have driven up to Marshal Kewin Rommel's mountain defenses ringing Tunis and Bizerte, a communiqué from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced today, and American and British aircraft have destroyed 81 more axis planes.

The mass destruction of axis aerial strength was led by American Flying Fortresses which, reconnaissance showed, destroyed 73 planes in two raids on Sicilian airfields which were thoroughly covered with bomb bursts. One hundred of the enemy's aircraft were seen on one field.

The British Eighth Army, continuing to press the African campaign to the northward from Sousse, ran into Rommel's "prepared positions between Enfidaville and Djebel Bou Hadjar," the communiqué said.

This apparently was the mountain defense line running west from Enfidaville, about 27 miles north of Sousse, and 50 miles south of Tunis, upon which Rommel had fixed for his main stand.

Djebel Bou Hadjar is 32 miles west and south of Enfidaville and 25 miles northwest of Kairouan.

Early Report Untrue

Despite the continued pressure of the Eighth Army, however, the Algiers radio report yesterday that Enfidaville had been captured appeared to be untrue.

The British First Army, exerting steady pressure from the west upon Rommel's narrow corridor of Tunisia, also pushed the Germans back along the Beldja road, north of Medjel el Bab to within three miles of Sidi-Nair, about 40 miles west of Tunis.

In between the Eighth and First armies, the French squeezed the German back for some time, bridged with another advance to the extreme north of the secondary Tunisian dorsal range on which the western end of Rommel's southern front apparently is anchored.

The destruction of 84 German and Italian aircraft was rated at least as great a crushing blow to Adolf Hitler's Mediterranean strategy.

The blow was accomplished with a loss of three allied planes, the communiqué said.

The Flying Fortresses, striking at Castelvetrano and Mito airfields in Sicily, caught more than 200 enemy planes on the ground.

When the Fortresses dropped their cascade of bombs at Castelvetrano, an official report said, 112 large enemy transports were on the field; and reconnaissance showed 51 destroyed and others seriously damaged.

At Mito 108 planes were on the ground and 22 were wrecked. In addition the flares set fire to a gasoline dump.

Eleven more axis planes were destroyed in air fighting, four of them by the Fortresses, and their way back from the raid.

The assault on the German air force in Tunisia also continued, with night bombers hitting Legrine airfield on the outskirts of Tunis and blasting Oudna landing ground 12 miles south of Tunis.

Most of the planes destroyed on the ground by the Fortresses were German, the communiqué said.

(Switzerland, where roundabout reports were gathered from Rome and Marseille, said Rommel already was beginning evacuation of some of his forces from Tunisia.)

(The Algiers radio also said a "considerable number" of German technical personnel already had been evacuated from Tunis. This suggested, however, that the evacuation might be largely of German air force ground personnel, no longer needed in Tunisia now that Rommel has lost most of his air bases.)

(The Reuters report said most of the axis forces being removed were Italians, who arrived in small craft in the early morning the last few days at Cagliari in Sardinia, and Trapani and Marsala in Sicily.)

The allied air force turned its chief attention to knocking out (Turn to AFRICA, Page 7)

173 CONTRIBUTE TO BLOOD BANK HERE

Total Collection of 150 Pints Recorded Yesterday.

One hundred and seventy-three Marion county residents contributed 150 pints of blood to the American Red Cross blood bank yesterday, making a total of 314 persons to donate 271 pints in the first two days of a three-day mass collection.

Marion women assisting at the collection center in the basement of the Epworth Methodist church estimated 150 persons would be bled in the final collection period from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. today.

In the first hour yesterday, 30 persons donated the life-saving fluid for an average of 9.75 per person every 15 minutes. Originally the unit was set up to handle a maximum of seven persons every 15 minutes but speeding up in methods of collection permit slightly higher averages.

Miss Esther Guthery, who is chairman of the staff assistant and who also is in charge of registration, said today most donors are expressing a desire to repeat the donation when the next collection is made, probably within three months.

Assisting the staff unit, including Dr. J. A. Maxwell, a technician, and six nurses is a large corps of volunteer workers affiliated with the Marion Red Cross chapter.

Poll Shows Bricker Ranks High in Ohio As Possible Presidential Candidate

By GEORGE GALLUP

PRINCETON, N. J., April 14—One important test which the public applies to any prospective candidate for the presidency is what the people in his home state think of him. No candidate ever gets very far unless he is favorably regarded among the voters who know something of his ability.

With the voters of Ohio, Governor John W. Bricker passed this test with flying colors.

Interviewers for the Institute, covering all sections of the state and all groups in the population, both Republican and Democratic have gathered opinions in Ohio as to Governor Bricker to determine how many people look upon him favorably or unfavorably as a presidential candidate. From this intensive statewide questioning the following facts emerge:

The Ohio governor has as high a favorable vote as a candidate for 1944 as President Roosevelt.

Another indication of Governor Bricker's strength is the attitude of Ohioans toward him as a governor.

In sizing up a state governor as a possible presidential candidate, political experts generally try to determine whether he is merely an average governor in the eyes of his constituents or an outstanding one.

The Institute made this test in Ohio in the course of its survey, and compared the vote given Bricker with the average vote registered by the other 47 governors on the same basis.

Results show that whereas 17 per cent of the people throughout the nation, on the average, consider their own governors outstanding men, a much higher proportion of Ohioans look upon Governor Bricker as having done an outstanding job in office.

The survey question was: "What kind of a job would you say the governor of your state is doing?"

The results in Ohio and a comparison with the nation as a whole follow:

	Ohio Vote	Avg. All Govs.
Outstanding	28%	17%
Better than average	18	14
Average	31	42
Poor	8	8
No Opinion	14	19

Not Well-Known Nationally

Governor Bricker took office in Ohio in 1938 and demonstrated his vote-getting ability by being twice reelected, each time by an increased majority percentage.

As a possible candidate for President, he has the support of many leaders in the Republican party. So far as the rank and file of Republican voters are concerned, the Governor is not widely known outside the Middle West.

An Institute survey in March, for example, found that among Republican voters from coast to coast, 65 per cent were either unfamiliar with him or had no opinion about him as presidential material.

Among those who had an opinion, however, the ratio of favorable to unfavorable vote was better than 2 to 1.

Ohio friends and supporters of the Governor are reported to be out in various parts of the country today informally promoting him as a presidential possibility.

STATE COURT RULES IN FAVOR OF POWER COMPANY.

Hardin County Case Ruling Given by Ohio Tribunal.

The state supreme court on April 7 upheld a Third district court of appeals verdict reversing the decision in a Hardin county common pleas court in a suit in which Mrs. Annabelle Hetrick was awarded judgment for $9,700 against the Marion Reserve Power Co. Representing the power company was the law firm of Streitz, Dowler and Wendenburg.

Mrs. Hetrick charged that the company was negligent in the marking of a pole, resulting in the electrocution of her husband, Robert Hetrick, who died on April 23, 1942, leaving two minor children. She said her husband, employed as a county road worker at the time of the mishap, mistook a symbol on one of the company's poles to indicate the line was a safety line rather than a power line.

Time Your Travel to Aid Wartime Transportation

Limit trips to times that won't interfere with military or war-work travel

Correct timing takes on new importance these days — particularly when it helps vital wartime transportation. When a trip is necessary, time it right—go before the mid-summer rush when travel is heavily concentrated in a two-month period, or postpone your travel until after this peak season. By helping to even-up travel, you make it possible for every bus seat to work full time on every trip.

Buses will serve you better, also, if you pick mid-week days rather than week-ends — and choose, from the many daily schedules, the buses which usually have more seats available. It's smart to get this and other wartime travel information from Greyhound in advance.

OHIO HILL PROJECT ON POST WAR PLANS

Program Rated Third in Nation by President.

Associated Press
COLUMBUS, April 14.—Rep. William R. Keene (R-Ohio) said today that the Ohio Hill project is rated third in the nation by President Roosevelt in a plan to develop the valleys in the southern part of the state for post-war development.

Keene made the announcement in a conference with the President's staff.

He said the Ohio Hill project is a through knowledge of the valley as a whole and the part embracing the counties where the nation's most economic development is to be made.

Keene said the President requested that the cost of the Ohio Hill project be proceeded on a program only by the Ohio and Arkansas river valleys.

Keene said he has the honor to undertake the development of the valley. It is carried on by private interests. He said the first step in the development of the valley is to build a dam and a reservoir to store water for irrigation and other uses for coal from the valley and other products to be manufactured.

Keene said Ohio has a reservoir of 600 tons of unmined coal which will be turned into oil and gas for the eastern seaboard or for export.

Moral Foundation Needed As Basis for Lasting Peace

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A reader of this column out in Merrill, Mich., writes to advocate a more spiritual and moral guidance in helping us to win the war and the peace—a thought which one encounters increasingly as the conflict rushes to its climax.

My correspondent remarks at the outset that it is difficult to write anything about religion without being accused as a fanatic.

Well, it does seem that way sometimes, but I find plenty of people eager to discuss the subject. After all, it's going to take more than just a few dammit's to put this world on its feet after the bloody barbarity it has undergone.

Anyway, there's no fear of adverse criticism evident in the statement taken by Senator Harry S. Truman, Democrat of Missouri, who has declared our need for "a fighting faith." The senator is in this urging support for moral rearmament movement.

Chief Difficulty
I have noticed that the chief difficulty in our war industry program is usually the human factor, said Senator Truman in a Washington press conference.

Suspensions, rivalries, apathy, and greed lie behind most of the bottlenecks.

"What we now need is a fighting faith which will last 24 hours a day, seven days a week and 52 weeks a year. We need to create a permanent incentive in the heart of every man in office and workshop. This can only come by installing personal qualities of patriotism and self-sacrifice based on moral and spiritual principles."

For a considerable time I have been watching the application of these moral and spiritual principles not only here at home but in other allied countries. The effect on the war effort has been remarkable in numerous instances, as many labor leaders are testifying.

Now that's worth while, when you stop to consider that a strike in a vital industry may cost the life of a man, because they lack equipment. It's worth while even if it merely speeds up production, as it has done in many places.

Principles Go Deeper
But of course these moral and spiritual principles go deeper even than the saving of life through inspiring teamwork in industry. Our leaders tell us that we cannot achieve a post-war rehabilitation without them. Both President Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill, among others, have emphasized the spiritual needs. Cardinal Hinsley of Britain, who died the other day, praised pronouncements of Mr. Roosevelt as those of a "Christian statesman."

"Imagine every decent-minded man, whether Democrat or Republican," said the cardinal in a broadcast, "will agree with him that peace can have no permanent foundation unless it is built on religious and moral values."

That expresses a sentiment, as I've said before in this column, which I've found growing in the allied countries. You even note this spirit on the battlefields when you encounter high religious principles in such great generals as Montgomery and MacArthur. They don't depend on their own strength to win battles. People are getting so they aren't afraid of being called fanatics for mentioning religion.

PRICES

and an expected decree on live hogs were merely taking time to formulate because of their extremely technical nature.

In the midst of these orders, OPA also was figuring what to do about the freight rate reduction ordered Monday by the interstate commerce commission.

Horsemeat was the second "cost of living" item, to legal action since the President's order. The first was tuna fish.

With other meats rationed and expensive, the human market for horsemeat is reported growing rapidly, and OPA set up ceiling prices to preserve it as the cheap substitute it started out to be.

18 Cents Is Top
Effective April 20, the top retail price for horsemeat is 18 cents a pound for all boneless cuts, 17 cents for ground horsemeat, with bone, 19 cents for boneless ground horsemeat either in bulk or glass jars. Larger cuts or carcasses were priced at 14 cents a pound. Wholesale prices were graduated from a basic price of $7.50 per hundredweight for carcasses. Officials said it has been the practice to charge more for ground horsemeat than horsesteak, reversing usual meat prices.

Indications were the freight cut would be used by OPA to prevent further price rises by offsetting of increased labor or materials costs. An example was said to be dairy products, on which pressure has been building up for higher prices because of various factors. Perhaps one official said, the benefit of the freight cut can be passed on to dairy farmers and at least partially satisfy their price needs.

Japanese Americans Reach Camp Shelby

By The Associated Press
CAMP SHELBY, MISS., April 14—Some 2,000 Japanese American soldiers from Hawaii began a three-day march today to the post, the largest group of soldiers to be sent to the mainland since the attack on Pearl Harbor.

As the first unit unloaded after a 4,000-mile journey via boat and rail, the marchers for Hawaii and the mainland were greeted by the local American soldiers and civilians who are taking advantage of an opportunity offered by the war department for military service against the enemy of the United States.

BOND SALE
The bonds will return you $500 at maturity.

The bonds build a reserve fund for you and your family. A steady income from government interest will provide for many necessities as well as some of the extras in the post-war period. The bonds also provide cash when the need arises for such emergencies as a protracted illness, for the education of children, for a new home and other family needs. They also are an ideal way to provide for an old age retirement fund.

Over and above these practical reasons for public support of the drive, leaders are placing the responsibility for financing the war up to the nation as a patriotic duty. Providing funds to keep the war effort in high gear will help bring an early end to the war, and thus save lives as well as expense.

One of the themes of news commentators this month in connection with the drive is the fact that American soldiers and fighting men of other allied nations have done a splendid job in the war so far, but would have done a more impressive job if they had been provided with the proper equipment. Lack of equipment slowed the allied cause in many theaters of war. It takes money to provide equipment, and that money must be raised—now.

Your payroll deduction purchases of war bonds count on this nationwide drive—they will be figured in as part of this country's $2,333,000,000 goal. An extra bond this month will help pay Marion county over the top.

Two Billions Sold in Last 24 Hours
WASHINGTON, April 14—The 13 billion dollar second war bond drive rolled along today behind unofficial estimates that some $2,000,000,000 had been subscribed the first 24 hours.
